From Principal's Desk:

At the outset I would like to appreciate our students for their relentless efforts, perfect planning and seamless execution of the National Teachers day celebration that made the month very special for all of us. Through the given exposure, the students have reflected to have gained understanding of how a team works to make a difference. We want our children to be future ready with the 21st century skills that are inclusive of analytical and critical thinking, communication, collaboration, decision making and problem solving. It is indeed delightful to know that our students could experience working in a team and learnt lessons beyond the syllabus. We wish them to continue to learn and become future ready with skills required to enter the world outside the school. A word of appreciation for all the students who represented their school in various sports competitions and brought laurels to their alma mater. The words of appreciation and encouragement by the Head - Education, Jindal Education Trust boosted the morale of the staff and students during his visit to JVM school. We thank our parents for their support in conducting the inter house competitions, special assemblies and look forward to having a great partnership for the cause of children. Our best wishes to children for the upcoming examinations and we want them to know that examinations are a part and parcel of life and we must appear in every exam with proper preparation and full confidence. I urge parents to be with their wards to extend moral and emotional support in all the walks of life.

Best wishes and take care.

Nutrition Week (1st -7th September)

Every year from September 1 to 7, National Nutrition Week is commemorated to raise public awareness about nutrition and healthy eating habits. Nutrition is the cornerstone of development and it is a fundamental right to be well-nourished.

Jindal Vidya Mandir, Kalmeshwar observed "Nutrition Week" from 1st to 7th September 2023 across classes 1 to 9 by encouraging the students to bring various types of nutritional food in their tiffin box. A healthy food chart was shared with them wherein they were supposed to bring the food accordingly. There was an overwhelming response from the student as the purpose behind it was to motivate the students for eating nutritious meals, dairy products and green vegetables and make it a practice.

It was a very fruitful exchange that will greatly help the students in making proper dietary and lifestyle choices.

Dramatization of English Chapter 3 Taro's Reward:

Role-play helps in the development of the basic conversation skill for children as well as language skills. Children learn social skills by collaborating with others in teamwork while role playing.

To experience the same the students of Grade VIA participated in the Role play and showed the dramatization of English Chapter: 3 Taro's Reward

They were divided into two teams. Students took on assigned roles and act out those roles through a scripted play. The role play was carried out as a group role play with each member in the group taking on a role or a character. Ample of Creativity was seen during the act as each group used props to make their act presentable.

Role play is a form of experiential learning where they can gain additional meaning from the context of role playing than from non-context specific book learning and lectures.

Friendship is not about".....

I realized prosperity brings infinite friends, great money and high status. But during adversity, fair weather friends also disappear. Every individual is a creation of God. No one knows when a crisis will break out in life. We can easily share our joy, pleasure with everyone. But it seems to be difficult to share our sorrow with everyone.

"Friendship is not about sharing stuff every second". We can't relate human feelings with materialistic things. Sharing secrets, talking every day for long hours might make one's bond stronger, but the bond always gets damaged if minute collisions take place.

No matter how long you don't communicate, or one disappears for many years, the respect of that person remains constant, that is the real definition of friendship. Single "smile" helps to make bonds stronger and win friendships.....

IS CURIOSITY PATIENCE? OR IS PATIENCE CURIOSITY?

Let us understand this concept through a story of Gautam Buddha. One day Buddha and his disciples were passing through a forest. While walking, one of the disciple suggested Buddha to give his teachings to the people of nearby villages. Buddha was quite, but after a minute he agreed. His disciples announced about the sessions and invite the villagers to come near a peepal tree, at the edge of the forest. Everyone was enthusiastic to get teachings from Buddha. On the successive day many people came. The crowd was unforeseen. Buddha was meditating. He didn't said a word in the entire session. The whole sabha was so quite that even a single moving leaf was audible. Everyone was surprised. The sabha gets over in few hours and everyone dispersed. But Buddha was still meditating. Everyone was in question but nobody asked.

Next day, again sabha was held. But this time only the half of the previous crowd came. Again the same thing happened. Buddha didn't said a word, the sabha was quite. The sabha ended. His disciples were not able to understand what he was doing. Again the same thing happened till six days but with the decrease of people in large amount.

On the 7th day, Buddha finally decided to broke his meditation and start his lessons. When Buddha looked over the crowd there were only 15 - 20 people sitting. Suddenly his attention was drawn towards a child, who was sitting the only youngest in the entire crowd (between all the elders). Buddha asked the child about his attendance. He answered "All six days and this is the seventh one". Buddha was surprised on hearing his attendance. With a lot of curiosity he asked the child, " Why and how did you attended all the sessions for hours and you are the only child in the entire crowd?" The child answered, " Curiosity... my curiosity brought me here and made me sit here for hours. I was curious to know what lesson I will learn today from you. And this curiosity only pushed me till now". Buddha was fascinated by his answer. He then started his lessons. After the sabha, one of his disciple asked Buddha "Why did you do that?" Buddha smiled and answered, " I was testing the patience of people. But meanwhile, I learnt a new concept from that child.

From the above story we can clearly understand that curiosity is linked with patience and patience is linked with curiosity. The child made Gautam Buddha curious. And the curiosity of child pushed him to attended all the sessions. Somehow in this century people are losing patience, as one of the factor of patience they are losing, which is curiosity.

Yes, I am mentioning curiosity as a factor, because not curiosity but there are few other factors (like desire) also which make people to be patient.
