From Principal's Desk:

Dear All,
Namaskar!

At the outset, I would like to welcome our staff and students back to the school after festivities and celebrations. Let us begin the 2nd term of the year with similar enthusiasm and focused approach to be on the continuum of learning.

The half yearly assessment was completed as per the calendar followed by celebrations in the school premises. It was a feast to eyes, when the tiny tots of the ECCE department walked in colourful attire to mark the Traditional Day. With the objective of raising awareness on ecofriendly and safe Deepavali, the school council members conducted a campaign to sensitise the children about sustainable development goals related to Environment and well-being. In a row, the teachers conducted an in-house career counselling session for grade X students to set the tone of career mapping activities scheduled ahead. On behalf of the staff and students, I extend gratitude towards the team of JSWSCPL for providing platform to our students to showcase their entrepreneur skills under the banner "Art for a Cause". The students prepared decorative pieces like Diyas, Lanterns, rangoli etc to experience the essence of startups and financial plannings.

We wish our children grow in all the dimensions from livelihood to leadership. As a team, we are grateful towards the Parent community and School Management for their support and contribution towards the vision and mission of JVM.

Let us continue to connect, collaborate and create opportunities for our children.

Regards
Pallavi Chakkilala
Principal

Nature's realm where seasons play,
Emotions bloom in their own way.
Each turn of weather, sun or rain,
stirs feeling both joyous and filled with pain.

In spring's embrace, with blossoms bright,
hope and love take their flight.
The forest greens with life anew,
And in our hearts, happiness accrues.

In summer's heat, Fierce and wild,
Can make us restless, dreams beguiled.
The vibrant green, a soothing sight,
Yet burdens weight like hearts cruel bite.

As autumn paints with hues of gold,
Nostalgia whispers tales of old.
Leaves fall like memories, crisp and sere,
And in our hearts, a touch of melancholy here.

Then winter comes, with snowflakes cold,
A canvas white, a story untold.
Emotions chill, as day grows old/short,
Yet warmth in heart, our spirit fold/fort.

Nature's season, a mirror to our soul,
Reflecting emotions, taking their toll.
Through forests deep and skies so wild/wide,
We find in nature life's changing tide

With every turn, a chance to see,
A world a new and what could be.
When seasons dance, we find our seats/place,
And in nature's embrace, our hearts find grace/joy/peace.

THE HEART OF HUMANITY

And the message, I want to convey with this poem with all is [one of unity, compassion, and the transformative power of charity to bring about positive change in both the giver and the world at large. It encourages readers to embrace charity as a way to make the world a better and more loving place.]

Miss Arushi Takalkhede
VIII A

In the realm of giving, where hearts unite,
Charity shines as a beacon of light.
A selfless act, a hand extended wide,
In kindness and compassion, we take pride.

In the tapestry of life, a thread so fine,
Charity's thread, a bond that can't unwind.
A touch of grace, a balm for souls in pain,
In the act of giving, love will always reign.

From humble gifts to acts of grandeur,
Charity's touch makes the world much grander.
It knows no bounds, no color, and no creed,
A universal language that all can heed.

In the darkest night, a glimmer of hope,
Charity's kindness helps us all to cope.
It warms the hearts of those who receive,
And, in the giver's soul, it finds reprieve.

For when we give, we receive so much more,
In love, in kindness, in blessings galore.
Charity's legacy, a lasting art,
A testament to the goodness in every heart.

So let us share, let us always care,
In charity's embrace, we'll find love to spare.
In this world we weave, let our deeds be clear,
For in charity's light, there's nothing to fear.

THE NEW WORLD

The world looks so different, through newly opened eyes;
there is just so much treasure that in front of you lies;

When you dive into a book, you can be yourself;
just as you want to see;

Reading a book, you see a thousand souls;
you can be a river that flows, or a hill that rolls;

When you read, you paint the rainbow of joy;
you laugh and cry, each book as you enjoy;

If you don't like to read, you haven't found yet a book;
since there is a right book for us all, you must simply listen and look;

A book is your own dimension, where you are in your element;
A book is a whole new world of magic and excitement.

पढ़ना तो चाहिए मुझे
पापा के सपने पूरे करने हैं मुझे
पढ़ना तो चाहिए मुझे
पढ़ना तो चाहिए मुझे
मम्मी को पूरा जाह| दिखाना है मुझे
पढ़ना तो चाहिए मुझे

पढ़ना तो चाहिए मुझे
लेकिन खेलने से फुर्सत मिलती नहीं मुझे
पढ़ना तो चाहिए मुझे
लेकिन मोबाइल देखने से फुर्सत मिलती नहीं मुझे
पढ़ना तो चाहिए
लेकिन दोस्तों के साथ फिरने से फुर्सत मिलती नहीं मुझे
इस कारण पढ़ाई कम होती है
यह पता है मुझे यह पता है मुझे
सब आदतें बंद करके
सपने पूरे करने हैं मुझे

A poem on cancer to mark the National Cancer awareness Day

In whispers soft, a plea takes flight,
To spread the word, to shine the light.
Cancer's shadow, in silent reign,
Awareness blooms to break the chain.

A call to arms, a clarion call,
To educate, empower us all.
In every heart, a beacon's glow,
Cancer's awareness, it starts to grow.

Through ribbons colored, stories shared,
Cancer's reach, by many bared.
Early screenings, knowledge sown,
Cancer's battle, not fought alone.

Ms Deepa Nigam
Special Educator and Counselor

I grow without a seed, unseen by the eye,
Inside, I spread, causing a silent outcry.
A foe within, disrupting life & dance,
Treatments aim to give another chance.
What am I....?
Answer: Cancer

Communities unite as one,
Cancer's awareness, a rising sun.
Support and care, a steadfast creed,
Cancer's journey, in every need.

With research's strides, and hope's
embrace,
Cancer's awareness, a steadfast grace.
Together, hand in hand, we dwell,
Cancer's fight, a tale to tell.

Let voices rise, let actions speak,
Cancer's awareness, in hearts we seek.
In unity, we stand and strive,
Cancer's awareness, for every life.
