From Principal's Desk:

Dear All,

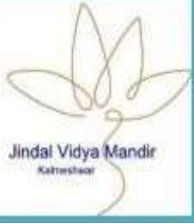

New Year greetings!

May the year be the best for each one of you unfolding the treasures of happiness and contentment. At the outset, I must congratulate the school squads for their synchronised March past presentation that added to the celebration of the national festival " the 75th Republic day 2024". The documentary film created by grade IX students on the "making of Indian Constitution was a wonderful attempt to spread awareness among the larger group about the constitutional values and fundamental rights. This effort is praise worthy and reflective of student's curiosity and out of box thinking to promote learning for self and others. Similarly, the department of social science and arts brought to light, the makers of the constitution, their profile and contribution towards the nation which will surely increase awareness among the viewers. We expect our students to plan their success by setting time-bound goals, executing their actions to achieve the targets within stipulated time and convert dreams into reality. The documentary film is indeed an example of student's creativity based on multidisciplinary, art integrated approach towards learning. We urge to our parent community to support their wards in all their endeavors and help them grow in all dimensions which is inclusive of scholastic and co scholastic experiences.

On behalf of the staff and students, we extend praises to grade X students for completing their school journey and extend best wishes for the upcoming board exams. Dear class X students, stay grounded and continue to do your best to make the best of everything including the upcoming exams.

Our good wishes are always there with our beloved students and their families.
Stay blessed and happy!

My School in Action

Promoting Child Safety

The Health and Wellness Club of Jindal Vidya Mandir, Kalmeshwar organized an impactful session aimed at raising awareness about child sexual abuse. The main feature of this session was the screening of the movie "KOMAL: Child Sexual Abuse." The initiative was taken to educate students about this sensitive topic and empower them with knowledge to safeguard themselves.

“Komal” film is made available by CBSE to conduct awareness drives for children who are vulnerable by age. The film aims to equip primary students with the knowledge and skills necessary to protect themselves, recognize abuse, and create a supportive environment that encourages open communication and prompt intervention when needed. The primary objective of the session was to address the serious issue of child sexual abuse and foster a safe and open environment for discussion. The movie "KOMAL" was chosen for its educational value and age-appropriate content. This event not only addressed a crucial aspect of children’s well-being but also emphasized the school's commitment to create a safe and nurturing learning environment.

Awareness session on “Reproductive Health and Hygiene”

To promote awareness among students about Reproductive health and hygiene, an interactive session was conducted on Jan 13th, 2024 in the school premises for girls and boys separately. Dr Sushma Khandagale [Medical Officer at Indira Gandhi Rugnalaya, Nagpur] and Dr. Pravin Dahake [Consultant Pediatrician, and former Chairperson, Adolescent Health Academy, Nagpur] addressed students.

The program started with welcoming of guests by pinning the badges and offering of token of respect and remembrance by the Students Council members. Both the resource persons explained the reproductive system, need and ways of maintaining reproductive hygiene and health. Dr. Sushma further explained the hazards of using disposable sanitary napkins and discussed various available options that are safe for health. It was an interactive session, where numerous student’s queries were successfully answered by the professionals. The teachers extended their gratitude to the guests for investing their valuable time and imparting knowledge to students.

Oath taking on the occasion of 'Makar Sankranti'.

Kite flying during Makar Sankranti is years long tradition. The kites are usually made from lightweight paper and bamboo. People engage in competition to 'cut' down other kites, the strings often contain abrasives like glass powder for easily cutting the string of the opponent's kite; the density of kites and strings becomes dangerous for birds of varied species —the sky turns into a dead trap. After identifying and realizing the issue, the students of Jindal Vidya Mandir kalmeshwar have taken the following oath.' We will not use nylon manja strings to fly kites. We know that the use of Nylon thread is banned, we will not break the rule by purchasing or selling it. We are bound to inform the nearest police station if someone is engaged in this type of activity. We will raise awareness about the harmful effects of Nylon thread for kite flying. We consider this as a 'National duty'.

Principal Ms. Pallavi Chakkilala appreciated the initiative taken by the students

Career Counselling and Guidance.

Two days' career counseling and guidance sessions were organised in the Activity room, Jindal Vidya Mandir Kalmeshwar for class X State and CBSE. On the first day the session was conducted by Mr Sujit Bhadbhade, a career counsellor, motivational speaker and entrepreneur. At the outset he conducted an hour long MCQ based examination consisting of competency based questions in science, maths etc and then further guided students. On the second day Mr Sanket Gala , CA, Student mentor and faculty at CAPS, was the resource person of the session on "Career in Commerce". He guided students to think beyond saturating streams like Engineering and Medical. The main objective of conducting these sessions was to facilitate all-round development of the student and to help students in the proper choice of courses and career.

It also aimed to minimize the mismatching between education and employment.

In the last leg of the sessions, Students put forth their queries and sought guidance. They felt motivated and broadened their horizon in terms of career choices.

Himani Chauhan Jvm: Play based activities blended with science concepts results not just in fun filled classes but even better understanding of the concept. Believing the same, Grade 1 students were engaged in a lively balloon activity to teach them about presence of air all around us. The teacher began with demonstration on how releasing air makes balloons fly. Further, encouraged students to inflate balloons themselves to observe and feel the air released out of the balloons and understand the properties of air.

WHO ARE YOU

Who you want to be?? That's the question we all ask ourselves in the mix of life. It isn't about the big words or the fancy stuff; it's about figuring out who you really are in the everyday hustle.

So, who are you?? Not the labels or what others say, but the real deal- the you are a quite person, taking things easily, or perhaps you're the one cracking jokes, making folks laugh. It's about knowing what makes tick, what you dig, and what gives you that warm fuzzy feeling.

In a world that's always saying this or that, finding out who you are is like peeling layers. It's not about putting on a show, it's about being comfy in your own. Are you the early bird catching the worm, or more of a night owl?? Do you dig sports, books, or just love chilling out?? It's all about knowing the stuff that makes you feel well.

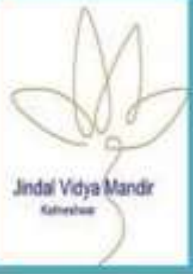

Life throws curve balls, and knowing who you are helps in swinging the bat. Are you the go-getter facing challenges head-on, or the laid-back type taking things as they come??

So, who are you in the regular bits of a day or when things get wild?? It's not about being real, genuine and true to yourself...

In the story of life, who you are matters. It's not about fitting into someone else's script; it's about rocking in your own story. So, take a moment, look in the mirror and ask yourself, "WHO ARE YOU?" The answer might surprise you, but that's the beauty of it- discovering the unique, awesome, amazing, gorgeous and one-of-a-kind you in this crazy adventure is called LIFE...

Let The Child Within You Live

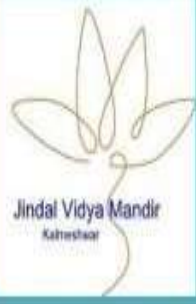

In this dark-lone world where water of turmoil flows, there's a bridge towards serenity. That Bridge is made of your child self. Nowadays people are striving for achieving victory, ignoring that shrill innocent voice saying, "come back.. you have gone too far". That's your child self, trying to stop you from going beyond human boundaries. What that child sees is nothing but betrayal, lust, sloth, wrath, greed, gluttony and laziness in his/her own adulthood. Is this what the child expected when he/she will become young? Is this what an individual learns from his/her childhood? A child is a small hope, who is always eager to learn new stuff, is active, does not discriminate, has innocence, a quick learner, ready to help anyone, emits truth and is the one who never broke their promises. Then why not let that child live in your heart, why let them disappear when you grow older. Those qualities of a child are gifts sent by the god which are supposed to be running in your veins as long as you live. But in reality are forbidden with time. The child has lot of expectations from his/her younger self. So let the child within you live, you will be able to see things much clear and optimistic with it...

And if you feel sad or depressed about something remember what a loyal warrior once said, "if you feel sorry about anything don't let that sorrow take over your body just SET YOUR HEART A BLAZE and hold your feet deep inside the earth".

Let The Child Within You Live.....

As the academic year draws to a close, we find ourselves bidding farewell to our Grade 10 students, a cohort whose journey through our school has been marked by growth, camaraderie, and achievement. As they prepare to embark on the next chapter of their lives, it's essential to take a moment to reflect on the memories we've shared and the lessons learned. The journey through Grade 10 is more than just academic milestones; it's a time of personal development and self-discovery. From navigating challenging coursework to forging lasting friendships, they have demonstrated resilience, determination, and a passion for learning. Together, we've celebrated triumphs and overcome challenges, fostering a sense of community that will endure beyond the confines of the classroom. From collaborative projects to spirited debates, they have exemplified the values of teamwork, empathy, and integrity. As we bid farewell to them, we are reminded of the transformative power of education. As they prepare to embark on new adventures, we offer our heartfelt congratulations and best wishes to them. May they approach the future with courage, curiosity, and a commitment to making a positive difference in the world. Though they may be leaving our halls, the memories we've shared and the bonds we've forged will endure. As they spread their wings and pursue their dreams, let us take pride in knowing that we've played a part in shaping the leaders, innovators, and changemakers of tomorrow.

Farewell, Grade 10 students. Your journey may be taking you far from these hallways, but your spirit will always remain a cherished part of our school community. As you embark on the next chapter of your lives, remember that you carry with you the knowledge, experiences, and friendships that will guide you toward a future filled with promise and possibility.
